Blackbaud Grantmaking™ is Now Available in a Powerful New User Interface

March 30, 2021

Blackbaud Grantmaking in Blackbaud SKY UX® provides core functionality in a streamlined, modern interface that is accessible from any device, anytime

CHARLESTON, S.C., March 30, 2021 /PRNewswire/ -- Blackbaud (NASDAQ: BLKB), the world's leading cloud software company powering social good, today announced that a new, modern user interface for Blackbaud Grantmaking™ is now available to customers around the world. Powered by Blackbaud SKY® —Blackbaud's platform for social good innovation—this highly anticipated release of SKY UX® for Blackbaud Grantmaking equips customers for the future of grantmaking with advanced grant management technology that's accessible anywhere via any browser on any device.

"Grantmakers all over the world enable nonprofits to continue their lifesaving work, and the critical importance of that job has been front and center throughout the COVID-19 pandemic," said Meredith Johnson, vice president, product management, Blackbaud. "With more veteran grantmakers using mobile technology and a younger generation of grantmakers emerging in the philanthropic community, providing convenient access to grants data and grants management tools will continue to be critical for success. Our recent enhancements to Blackbaud Grantmaking, leveraging SKY UX, are a great example of how Blackbaud is innovating for the future of giving while bringing consistent, cohesive user experiences to our customers."

Blackbaud Grantmaking empowers all grantmaking stakeholders—from the C-suite to the board room and applicants in the field—with purpose-built tools to achieve greater efficiency, improve remote collaboration and better understand results. With a high level of scalability and personalization, powerful functionality and a cloud-based and fully hosted platform, Blackbaud Grantmaking enables organizations large and small to make a greater impact while alleviating their IT burden, improving data security and providing the freedom and flexibility to work in the system remotely.

This flexibility is now taken to new heights with the introduction of Blackbaud Grantmaking in SKY UX, providing grantmakers with a modern user interface that makes work easier than ever. As the world's needs change and grow, Blackbaud Grantmaking is a partner in helping grantmakers direct funds to organizations that need them.

Blackbaud Grantmaking in SKY UX Delivers:

- Integration with impact measurement mapping indexes
- Global access to extensive information about grantee organizations including award histories, past and pending grant requests, payment histories, outstanding requirements and more
- Ability to create and update records on-the-go, allowing users to keep their core system data current at all times
- Access to personalized dashboards and saved searches, providing grantmakers with key insight into the results and progress of their programs from anywhere
- Multifactor authentication for enhanced security

"Blackbaud Grantmaking has been our trusted technology partner for years, and we are thrilled about its transition to the new user interface, enabling us to get funds out the door using any browser and any device," said Lindsay Cochrane, program director, Dunham Foundation. "Blackbaud Grantmaking in SKY UX is the essential technology to allow us to help those in need."

The new user interface for Blackbaud Grantmaking is available free of charge to all current Blackbaud Grantmaking customers. To learn more about Blackbaud Grantmaking, visit https://www.blackbaud.com/products/blackbaud-grantmaking.
