Item 5.02 Departure of Directors or Certain Officers; Election of Directors; Appointment of Certain Officers; Compensatory Arrangements of Certain Officers

(d) On June 13, 2007, the Board of Directors (the “Board”) of Blackbaud, Inc. appointed Timothy Chou as a member of its Board. Mr. Chou will hold office until Blackbaud’s 2008 Annual Meeting of Stockholders or until his successor is elected and qualified. Mr. Chou was also appointed to the Compensation Committee of the Board.

The Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee of the Board (the “Committee”) conducted the search for director candidates. Although the Committee has not formulated any specific minimum qualifications for director candidates, it has determined that desirable characteristics include strength of character, mature judgment, career specialization, relevant technical skills, diversity and independence. After reviewing several director candidates, the Committee recommended Mr. Chou for appointment to the Board. There were no arrangements or understandings between Mr. Chou and any other person pursuant to which Mr. Chou was appointed as a director.

Mr. Chou is a co-founder of Openwater Networks, Inc. Previously he served as President of Oracle On Demand, a division of Oracle Corp (ORCL), which provides software on demand to the Global Fortune 2000, from November 1999 to January 2005. He authored the book “The End of Software” and is widely regarded as an industry leader in software as a service.

He has also served as Chief Operating Officer of Reasoning, Inc., an information technology services firm, and numerous management positions at Tandem Computers. Mr. Chou has served on the Board of Directors of Embarcadero Technologies (EMBT), since July 2000 and was also on the advisory board for WebEx, Inc. recently acquired by Cisco. He has been a lecturer in computer science at Stanford University for more than 15 years, and most recently launched the first class in software as a service. Mr. Chou holds a bachelor’s degree in electrical engineering from North Carolina State University and a master’s and doctoral in electrical engineering from the University of Illinois Urbana-Champaign.
